This report also describes changes to the Fund that occurred during the reporting period.

What were the Fund costs for the past year?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Class C	$223.00	2.05%

How did the Fund perform during the period and what affected its performance?

The Fund's Class C shares outperformed the MSCI All Country World ex USA Net Total Return USD Index (the "Index") during the 12-month period ended September 30, 2025.

During the period, non-U.S. equity securities posted strong return, nearly matching their U.S. counterparts, even as U.S. mega-cap and artificial intelligence beneficiaries have continued to lead the market.

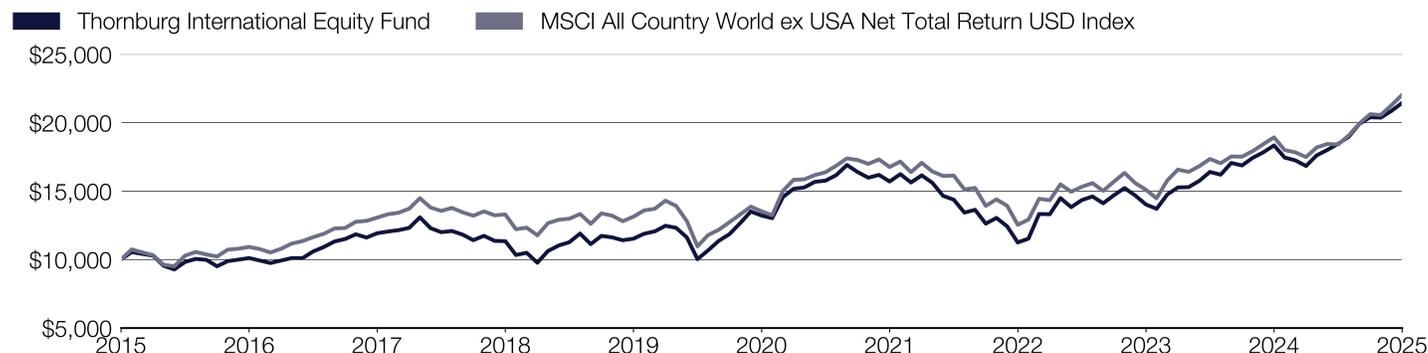

Stock selection was the primary contributor to the Fund's outperformance relative to the Index, consistent with the Fund's bottom-up investment approach. Sector allocation detracted from performance relative to the Index, but selection and currency effects together produced the outperformance relative to the Index. Geographic allocation and the Fund's allocation to cash also detracted from performance relative to the Index.

Within consumer discretionary and financials sectors, stock selection bolstered performance relative to the Index. Additionally, stock selection in Korea and Japan, as well as a zero-weight allocation in India, also drove positive performance relative to the Index. Stock selection within the materials sector hampered performance relative to the Index.

How did the Fund perform over the past 10 years?

The line graph below reflects a hypothetical $10,000 investment. The returns shown in the line graph and table assume the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, but do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on distributions or the redemption of Fund shares. The performance information shown below represents past performance and is no guarantee of future results.
