What were the Fund costs for the past year?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Class C	$230.00	2.19%

How did the Fund perform during the period and what affected its performance?

The Fund's Class C shares underperformed the MSCI All Country World ex USA Net Total Return USD Index (the "Index") during the 12-month period ended September 30, 2025.

During the period, non-U.S. equity securities posted strong returns, nearly matching their U.S. counterparts, even as U.S. mega-cap and artificial intelligence beneficiaries have continued to lead the market.

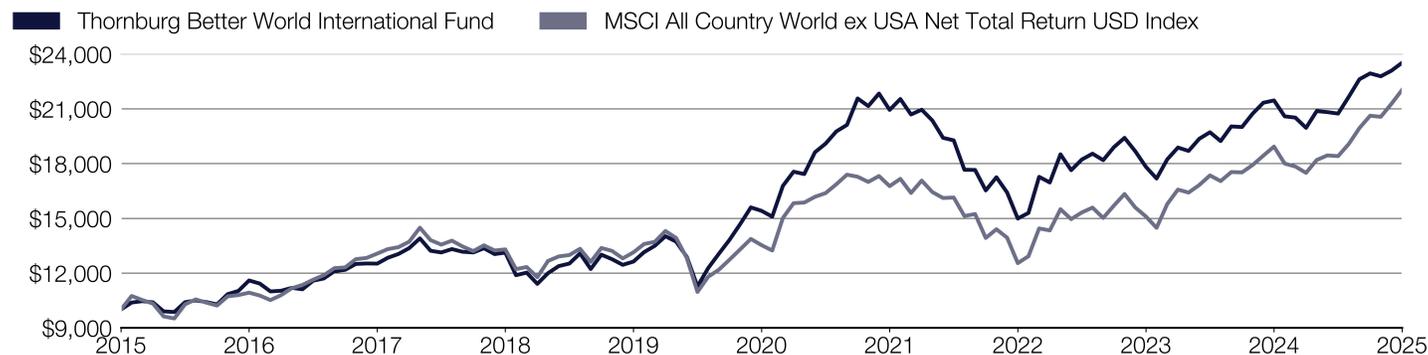

The Fund's strong stock selection in consumer staples and selection and currency effects in information technology sectors contributed positively to performance relative to the Index. A lack of allocation to the energy sector was also additive to performance relative to the Index. The main detriments to performance relative to the Index came from stock selection in consumer discretionary, materials and financials sectors.

From a geographic perspective, strong stock selection in Korea and a zero-weighting allocation to India, where security valuations were deemed to be too high, were the key drivers of performance relative to the Index. The biggest detractors came from an underweight positioning allocation to securities in China and selection effects for securities in the United Kingdom and Canada.

How did the Fund perform over the past 10 years?

The line graph below reflects a hypothetical $10,000 investment. The returns shown in the line graph and table assume the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, but do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on distributions or the redemption of Fund shares.
